Champagne Lamiable

I am delighted to continue offering CHAMPAGNE LAMIABLE as my mainstay champagne. This is the 25th year that I have been working with them and I still find it very hard to justify the prices of many of the better known champagnes, which are often £10-15 a bottle more expensive. To me, and I fully admit to bias, the quality/price ratio of Lamiable is very hard to match let alone better. Look beyond the unfamiliar label, and you will find truly wonderful champagnes. Situated in Tours sur Marne, all the wines are made from 100% Grand Cru grapes (which proscribes the use of Pinot Meunier).

Currently being shipped and will be arriving soon

Tour Saint Martin

TOUR ST. MARTIN continues to be a great seller for Balthazar, making wines that frequently win awards. The property is situated in Minervois in the western part of Languedoc. The wines are wonderfully presented and made to the highest standards. The wines also represent (to me at least!) excellent value for money, and disprove the myth that France cannot make good inexpensive wines to rival those of New World countries.

Some of these wines are in stock, while others have had their shipment delayed due to Covid-19

Vignobles Patrice Moreux

PATRICE MOREUX has vineyards both in the Loire and in Provence.

2018 Pouilly-sur-Loire, Domaine Patrice Moreux

12x75cl

9.95

100% Chasselas. To be drunk young (1-4 years). Lighter and more discreet than the Pouilly Fumé, this is a wonderful everyday drop. It is delicate, light and fruity, and marked with hints of white fruits and backed up with a tangy freshness.

2019 Pouilly Fumé, Domaine Patrice Moreux

12x75cl

13.95

Wonderful now, but can be kept for several years. A light yellow colour with green tinges. On the nose, citrus, blackcurrant leaf and flint. This is carried through to the palate with a generosity and roundness.

2019 Ch. Des Vinginières Rosé, Côtes de Provence

12x75cl

9.95

50% Cinsault, 40% Grenache, 10% Syrah. Classic light pink, onion skin colour. A fine nose with red fruits, with subtle tangy and peppery touches. A rich wine, but balanced and elegant rather than having over powering fruit. Precise, persistent with a touch of spiciness. Very easy to drink. Can be kept for up to 3 years, but why wait?

2018 Ch. Des Vinginières Blanc, Côtes de Provence

12x75cl

9.95

80% Rolle, 20% Ugni-Blanc. Ideal window of drinking 2-5 years. A lively and fruity wine, with a balanced roundness, good depth of fruit and a wonderful complexity. Hints of lemon, candied fruit and pineapple. Great value for money

2013 Ch. Des Vinginières Rouge, Côtes de Provence

12x75cl

9.95

70% Syrah, 30% Grenache. Fermented in 75% inox, and 25% oak barrels that are 5 years old, allowing the fruit characteristics to be preserved in all their freshness. Ideal drinking window from about 4 years, although that's not to say it can't be approached much earlier. Packed with hints of blackcurrants, floral elements and hints of pepper. The palate has a style that emphasizes elegance with a rich and spicy prettiness.
